

Homework 6A Low Fi

For the low fi prototype I had to create all new designs as my original ideas did not compute with the requirements of the homework. I made a very quick rough sketch to include the new design element (a separate cart page rather than having an integrated one like I had before.) The major elements I focused on in this specific redesign was the general layout without much focus on any further details.

Product details layout and cart page layout